Vedette Directory,

UTAH.

Area, 100, 382 square miles—Population 90,000.

The Capital, Great Salt Lake City. (Population, 17,000.) stands on the great highway westward, in the grand centre of the golden circle comprising Colorado, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico and Arizona. The City is one of the most beautiful in the Union, and the largest between St. Louis and Sacramento. Its scenery of mountains is majestic, and its view of islands and Lake is peerlessly picturesque.

The City proper is a square of three miles each side, and contains 260 blocks of 10 acres each, (each divided into 8 lots,) and 4 public squares. Its level streets, running due east and west, and north and south, are 130 feet wide, with shade trees along either sidewalk, and living streams of water flowing by both sides of every street, to irrigate the fruit trees and gardens.

The Territory is divided into twenty counties, the towns of which range from 5,000 to 600 population.

THE JUDGMENTS OF WOMEN.—In a conversation I once held with an eminent minister of the church, he made this fine observation: "We will say nothing of the way in which that sex usually conduct an argument; but the intuitive judgments of women are often more to be relied upon than the conclusions which we reach by an elaborate process of reasoning. No man that has an intelligent wife, or is accustomed to the society of educated women, will dispute this. Times without number you must have known them to decide questions on the instant, and with unerring accuracy, which you had been boring over for hours, perhaps, with no other result than to find yourself getting deeper and deeper into the tangled maze of difficulties. It were hardly generous to allege that they achieve these feats less by reasoning than a sort of sagacity which approximates to the sure instincts of the animal races; and yet there seems to be some ground for the remark of a witty French writer, that when a man has toiled, step by step, up a flight of stairs, he will be sure to find a woman at the top; but she will not be able to tell how she got there. How she got there however, is of little moment. If the conclusions a woman has reached are sound, that is all that concerns us. And that they are very apt to be sound on the practical matters of domestic and secular life, nothing but prejudice or self-conceit can prevent us from acknowledging. The inference, therefore, is unavoidable that the man who thinks it beneath his dignity to take counsel with an intelligent wife, stands in his own light, and betrays that lack of judgment which he tacitly attributes to her."—Exchange.

Brigham Young has practiced a principle, contained in woman's judgment; as he is related to say, in "Burton's City of the Saints." "If I did not consider myself competent to transact business without asking my wife, or any other woman's counsel, I think I ought to let that business alone." But, perhaps, that was caused by his having so many scores of 'em to ask.

DAILY MORNING TELEGRAPH

That a strenuous effort is now being made by Brigham Young and his Counselors to inveigle into polygamy as many as possible of the Latter day Saints, is no longer a matter of doubt. But for what reason? Having themselves transgressed the law, do they seek security in the multitude of offenders, or do they wish to involve the mass of the people of this Territory in their own inevitable disgrace and ruin? They cannot be so blind as to suppose that the General Government will recede from its position on the question of polygamy, and we hardly believe them so infatuated as to hope successfully to resist its power. They know that the Government having enacted a law against polygamy will, sooner or later, enforce it. If they really have a doubt as to the constitutionality of the law, why do they not allow the question to go before the Courts? It is well known that, until very recently, their boasted security was that no proof could be obtained that the law had ever been transgressed; but, no sooner did leading men in Congress propose a test oath for this quetion, than they suddenly discovered that polygamy with them was a matter of religious duty, and the people are counseled that their future salvation depends upon their belief in the divinity of the institution. One would naturally suppose that in a question of such magnitude to the people of Utah as the anti-polygamy law must be, and in, their leaders would counsel prudence at least, until their own fate is decided. They ought to know that if Brigham Young cannot alone successfully contend against that Act, neither can he do so though backed by every Mormon in Utah. They do know it; but they still hope that when the crash comes it will involve a majority of their followers in their own fate. We again counsel the people to beware how they are induced to jump aboard the sinking ship, Polygamy. That the Anti Polygamy Act will be enforced we know full well. It is not a law against Mormonism. It does not interfere with any religious duty or privilege. It is aimed against the sins and not the religion of the people. Mormonism as a distinct religion, so far as Government opposition is concerned, may live, but Polygamy must fall, and with it all those who are foolish or reckless enough to embrace it.

The Specific Contract Law in Nevada.

The Shylocks of the Pacific coast are in a state of intense excitement over a decision of the Supreme Court of Nevada, declaring the Specific Contract Law of that State to be unconstitutional.

When that Supreme Court first announced that opinion, in the case of Milliken vs. Sloat, the Shylocks at once prepared for a vigorous assault upon it, and fulminated their decree to the people that they would not recognize as honorable any man who did not trample under his feet the Act of Congress declaring the national currency a legal tender for all debts, public and private, except the duty on imports and the interest on the public debt, and who did not spit upon the decision of a just tribunal which dared to sustain that law.

The Court permitted a re-hearing in the case, and on the 18th ult. re-affirmed its former decision, and so, to the glory and honor of the Silver Queen State, the infamous Specific Contract Law is cast out from her statutes, and she stands fairly and squarely for the Government on the currency question. The nation has sustained itself for years on that currency, and Nevada can do the same. Colorado, with her extensive gold and silver fields, has prospered by the use of the national currency, and works her mines by the aid of Legal Tenders, which heretofore in Nevada have been treated with contempt; and honorable men who attempted to discharge honorable debts with the currency of the nation, have been advertised as one would advertise a felon or a runaway apprentice—not to be trusted by any one. Had other loyal States acted as Nevada and California have acted during the past three or four years, the Government would have been ruined beyond all hope of human redemption—treason would have triumphed, and the American Union would not have existed to-day. California, to her great shame, has defiled her statute-book with a similar law, and to that extent, while she was professing the greatest love and devotion to the country, she really stabbed the Government in the most vulnerable place, by reason of that Act. We hope the Legislature of that State will wipe out that law, and give the national currency the position it is entitled to hold in the community.—As it is [illegible] cannot pass a legal tender in payment of a debt in California, without being considered dishonorable in his business transactions.

ONLY two survivors of all those who participated in the war of the Revolution, so far as is known by the Commissioner of Pensions, remain, namely: William [illegible] of Deerfield, Hancock county, Maine, aged 101 years, and Lemuel Cook, of Plymouth, Orleans county, N. Y., aged 99 years; and only five widows of revolutionary soldiers draw pensions from the government, at a yearly amount of $330,93.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE.

Washington, Jan. 31.

In the House to day suffrage representatives constitutional amendment was reported back, the words "direct tax" having been stricken out. After some debate the amendment was passed by required two-third vote, yeas 122 nays 46. The Committee of Commerce reported a bill repealing fishing bounties. It was passed. A bill regulating registry and restoring vessels sold under foreign flags during the war, was debated and opposed as a bad precedent. Ship-owners should not desert eight hundred thousand tonnage and change it to foreign flags. The bill for the sale of revenue cutters and marine hospitals was referred.

The constitutional amendment was passed by the House to-day. It apportions the representatives in Congress upon the aggregate population, excluding classes not allowed suffrage and civil rights by the laws. Second section relating to direct taxes was stricken out in Committee. Mr. Stevens in reporting the amendment from Committee, took occasion to say the President had put forth a remarkable proclamation while the question was pending in this House, being a violation of the privileges of this body which, if done some centuries ago, by a British King, would cost the monarch his head; now, however, we are tolerant of usurpation. Smith, of Kentucky, called for the reading of the paper, alluded too. The paper was then read, being the reported conversation between the President and Senator Dixon. Schenck's amendment, that apportionment be on the basis of qualified electors, was rejected by a vote of 39 to 130. The House then voted on the main question, ayes 120 nays 46, and the Speaker declared it carried.

SENATE.

Washington, Jan. 31.

Senator Stewart has introduced a bill granting one million acres of public lands for the support of the mining college near Austin, Nevada. Script to be issued for the amount which is to be sold by the State, and the proceeds put into United States stock, the interest on which shall be used for the expenses of the school.

Senator Lane, of Kansas, has introduced a bill granting lands for the construction of a railroad from the present southern terminus of the Leavenworth and Lawrence and Fort Gibson Road, to the northern boundary of Texas, in the direction of Galveston.

The joint committee on reconstruction has, as previously stated in these despatches, been divided into five sub-committees of three members each, as follows: 1st, Senators Fessenden and Johnson and Representative Stevens, to whom is entrusted general business of committee and examination of persons on condition of the south as a whole. 2d, Senator Grimes and Representatives Bingham and Grider, investigation of Tennessee. 3d, Senator Howard and Representatives Conkling and Blair, respecting Virginia. 4th, Senator Harris and Representatives Morrill and Bentwell, on situation of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas. 5th, Senator Williams and Representatives Washburne and Rogers, on inquiry about Florida, Louisana and Texas. One or more of these sub-committee is in session about two hours every morning, that on Tennessee being particularly busy.

GENERAL NEWS.

Washington, Jan. 31.

Secretary Harlan publishes a card explaining his late speech made by him, and says, "in conferring suffrage, I expressed my greater confidence in ignorant loyalty than elegant treason, and had never disguised preference, and would not in future."

The Postmaster General yesterday directed upwards of a hundred offices to be reopened in the South.

Annapolis, Jan. 31.

The Maryland Legislature appropriated fifteen thousand dollars to complete the Antietam cemetry. The remains of eight thousand soldiers now lying where they fell, will next summer be collected in one enclosure.

Boston, Jan. 31.

A meeting of the capitalists was held this evening to consider the interests of the Northern Pacific Rail Road. Speeches were made by Edward S. Tobey, Ex-Governor Smith, of Vermont, the new President of the Company. Hon. John F. Briggs, of Mich., E. D. Holbrook, of Idaho, Capt. Muller, and other gentlemen. The policy of the company was announced to be the immediate construction of about 700 miles of the road to connect Lake Superior with Yellow Stone River, proceeding thence to the navigable waters of Columbia River, by which steam communication will be opened. It is proposed that this work shall be completed within 3 years.

Washington, Jan. 31.

An interesting interview took place at the President's this P. M. Delegations from the Choctaw, Chickasaw, Creek, Cherokee and Seminole Indians, were introduced by Cooley, Commissioner of Indian affairs, and Sells, Agent for Southwestern Indians. The President said he was glad to meet them, and receive their assurances of friendship, and that their business relations with the Government would be properly attended to.

Papers filed in the Freedmen's Bureau show that more than two millions of dollars have been deposited by freedmen in the various savings banks throughout the South.

Washington, Feb. 1.

Among the pardoned, yesterday, was Gen. J. S. Preston, of South Carolina.

Chicago, Feb. 1.

The report of Messrs. Wells, Colwell and Hayes, commissioners to investigate the Internal Revenue system, heretofore mentioned as transmitted to Congress, Monday, fills 10 columns of the N. Y. Herald. The following is a most careful synopsis: Committee recommend the exemption of incomes below $1,000 from tax; the reduction of the tax on distilled liquors from two dollars to three dollars per gallon; remission of tax on wearing apparel; repeal of the tax on pig iron, coal and crude petroleum; repeal of all taxes on all books, magazines, pamphlets, leaving the present taxes on paper, printing, &c., unchanged; the reduction of the tariff of duties now levied on boots and shoes, [illegible] repeal of all taxes on [illegible] of engines, cars, carriages, [illegible] of all taxes specified in schedule "A" of Internal Revenue Act, of last session, except billiard tables; reduction of the tax now levied [illegible] 85 per cent. [illegible] Increase [illegible] to five c[illegible] fications [illegible] the first [illegible] effect will be the reduction of the present burden of Internal Taxes, by about one-fourth, yet the commissioners calculated the Internal Revenue will amount for the year ensuing to no less than $[illegible],000,000, and the duties on imports to $130,000,000, making an aggregate revenue of $367,000 000. If, then, the cost of supporting the government, shall be one hundred millions, and interest on public debt should reach $167,000,000 there would be left one hundred million to apply to the reduction of the principal.

FOREIGN NEWS.

New York, Jan. 31.

Havana advices are received to the 27th. A royal decree had been received, disapproving the formation of a society to suppress the slave trade, and reprimanding the Captain General for countenancing it, and ordering its suppression.

Reports said the gulf is full of Chilian privateers. Schooners and steamers flying suspicious flags, have been seen in the gulf. Risks are being effected at Havana by ship-owners. One company refused to take them.

New Orleans, Jan. 30.

Galveston dates to the 25th state that Gen. Ortega was at San Antonio, and published a protest, as President of the Supreme Court of the Republic of Mexico, against the decrees of Juarez.

The Galveston Civilian says that the delegates to the State Convention elect, as far as heard from, warmly support President Johnson's policy. The election of Judge Hancock, at Austin, over Ex.-Gov. Pease, was considered more in accordance with the radicals than with the President.

New York, Jan. 31.

The steamer New York, from Bremen and Southampton, brings three days' later news.

London, Jan. 17.

Consols lower, closed at 86¼@87; Paris rentes, 68f. 17c. 5-20's, 66.

The steamship London, for Melbourne, foundered at sea; 270 lives lost; only 16 of the crew and 3 passengers saved.

The Parliamentary session commenced on the 1st of February. A new reform bill was laid before the Cabinet on the 10th, but only in shape of a project.—Russell and Gladstone are its authors. It will not be introduced early.

The Princess Selena will not be married until July.

No new arrests of Fenians.

Madrid was quiet. The Moderate party hoped that Gen Concha would form a new Cabinet.

The Primo rebellion is a failure, the soldiers being deceived by the belief that Espartero directed a revolt. Primo will take refuge in Portugal.

COLFAX'S SUCCESS IN NEW YORK.—A late number of the N. Y. Herald has the following glowing description of the reception of Speaker Colfax's late lecture on the West and Mormondom:

The Hon. Schuyler Colfax delivered his lecture "Across the Continent" last evening, in the Cooper Institute, to one of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences that has assembled within that building upon such an occasion for a length of time. The immense hall was crowded in every part, and not even standing room was to be had for numbers who pressed from the outside for admittance. The platform itself was crowded, chairs being placed close up to the gas lights to accommodate the ladies and gentlemen who were interested listeners to the lecture. Mr. Colfax briefly stated the motives which led to his undertaking a journey across the continent—a desire to view for himself the capabilities and resources of States and Territories which had contributed and promised to contribute so much to the wealth and power of the United States. The descriptive portion of the lecture was listened to with wrapt attention, the lecturer, from his scholary choice of words and his expression of feeling, still under the influence of the emotions of sublime scenes through which he passed gave rise to taking his hearers' imagination with him over the lofty Sierras and through the mountain gorges and spreading plains he had traversed in his route. He was particularly applauded when speaking of Mexico as still a republic, and of the duty which would devolve upon this government to abolish polygamy in Utah—that remaining one of the twin relics of barbarism. He was very condemnatory of those United States officers in Utah who indulged in a plurality of wives, thus setting at naught the very laws of the government they were sent there to maintain. Towards the abolition of this great cancer on the body politic he thought nothing would be so effective as completing the great Pacific Railway. His remarks on this point also drew forth hearty applause.

MORMON SERMONS.—Speaking of some of those outrageous "sermons," so called, as delivered here by Brigham Young, Bishop Woolley and Dr. Clinton, respectively on the first Sunday of September, 1861, and the evening of Jan. 1st, 1865, the Reese River Reveille, of Jan. 25th, says truly:

They are in language of the most gross and obscene character ever put in print. That such language could be tolerated indicates the baseness and degradation of the community, and more than all the terrible depths of shame to which the Mormon women are dragged down by their tyrant masters. The expressions of the sermons (it is a shame to use that sacred word in connection with such stuff) are too filthy for us to repeat, but, perhaps, that kind of talk is necessary among the polygamists to keep their women in subjection, and to keep them reminded of their debasement, dependence and inferiority. The VEDETTE is exposing the horrible features of this modern barbarism and will compel a change at no distant day.

Two fat sisters recently arrived in Cleveland on their way to New York to join Barnum, where they are engaged at $300 a week to exhibit themselves. Their names are Christiana and Eliza Bedell Sutter. Their parents are Germans, and reside in Erie county, Ohio. Their mother is a small, thin woman, though their father is inclined to obesity. They increase in weight about a pound in two days, and now weigh respectively 285 and 215, and are aged 10 and 11 years.

Local and Miscellaneous.

Interesting matter on every page.

He labors vainly, who endeavors to please every person.

Clocks.—A new lot of clocks received at Meeks' Pioneer Jewelry Store. See card.

That case of Council monopoly versus the private billiard club association, was progressing as we prepared to go to press.

Fog and Weather.—For a week past a dense fog has enveloped our city and surrounding country. The weather has been cool, and quite sufficient to cover the ground to make sleighing after a fashion.

The Lecture To Night.—The lecture by the Rev. Norman McLeod, on "Mormonism," at Independence Hall, this Friday evening, will undoubtedly attract an intelligent, crowded audience, of all sects and classes. See notice elsewhere in our columns.

Challenge.—Paisey Marley, of pugilistic fame, who has opened a sparring school in this city, says he will fight Con Orem, for fifteen hundred dollars or any sum he, Orem, is willing to name; the contest to come off four months from now.

Undergoing Penance.—The rebel Major-General Simon B. Buckner, of Kentucky, is now associate editor of the New Orleans Crescent, and Major-General Frank Gardiner, who commanded at Port Hudson, is a local reporter under him. If they stick to the business they will suffer enough to expiate the sins they have committed as rebels.

Universally Popular.—From everybody who stages it between Salt Lake and the Sierras, we hear universal praise bestowed on the Overland Mail Line, its management and its splendid running order. Public opinion is unanimous that the "Overland Mail Line," between here and California, is one of the best, if not the very best appointed stage lines on this continent.

Balls and Parties.—Big bill by the Douglas Dramatic Troupe, at the Camp Theater, to-morrow night. The Michigan boys have a big ball at Camp Douglas, tomorrow night. On this night week, the anniversary of the birth of our late President, Abraham Lincoln, a grand military ball, given by Officers of this District, will take place at the Salt Lake House, as per invitation circulars now issuing.

Progress.—Next Monday afternoon, Mt. Moriah Lodge U. D. F. and A. M. will be fully organized by a public installation of officers, at Independence Hall. So we move along. As rapidly as civilization penetrates the wilds of the west, Masonry and Odd Fellowship unfurl their banners and commence their great labor of love and brotherly devotion. Let there be a full attendance of our citizens next Monday afternoon, to witness the interesting ceremonies.

Bold Robbery.—A case of this kind is reported in the Montana Democrat of the 24th, ult., which says that, as James Talbot, of Nevada, was on his way from Helena to Virginia City, he was robbed of 258 ounces of gold dust. Just before he reached Jefferson Bridge, two men on horseback approached him as he was riding along and said, "Jim, give us your money," presenting their revolvers at the same moment, thus getting the "drop on him." Mr. Talbot of course had no alternative but to comply.

Complimentary to The O. S. Line.—Among others, Col. James McNasser, who has just arrived here from the plains, per Ben. Holladay's Overland Stage Line, wishes us to state his unqualified approval of the comfortable and satisfactory treatment received from the divison agents, drivers and employes along the Overland Line from Denver to this place. That they spare no pains to politely make comfortable one and all who travel, at this inclement season, over the Line. We have the same to say, ourselves, so far as our experience of travel has allowed. All was courtesy and care.

Monopoly Unpopular.—Within a short time past, from all sides strong disaffection and dissatisfaction has been expressed both by good Mormons as well as Gentiles, denunciatory of this City Council's shameful monopoly of billiards and liquor selling. The saints as well as gentiles get to see that such as warranted usurpation of aldermanic "brief authority" is inequitable and impolitic. If the five or six "city dads" deal in whisky and billiards for their especial benefit all right, provided they let or license others, saints and gentiles, to do likewise—if they want to. A prominent Mormon (a lawyer) expressed himself out boldly, to this effect, in Court house yesterday morning. If twas put to vote, the popular voice of three fourths of this whole people would be for "equal rights," "free trade," and down with monopoly"—whether by six councilmen or any other man. That's the talk, and the sooner heeded the better for the City.

Advertising Bluffs.—The spicy local editor of the Denver News, Capt. Geo. West, thus announces an increase in his family:

Ye Local has learned the matrimonial rule of subtraction—take one from two and three remains. The military passion being strong in him, he discourseth of the event thusly:

Morning Report.—The Morning report of Company "W," stood as follows this morning: For duty, 2; sick, 1; total, 3. Total last report 2; gain, 1. Remarks: One from duty to sick; one recruit from Depot. It is a girl; weighs 8 lbs. 9 oz.

Sale of Government Horses and Mules.—Instructions have been received for the sale of a large number of Government horses and mules rendered surplus in this district. Nearly, if not all the stock to be offered for sale at public auction is in excellent order and serviceable. The horses and mules thus sold will be branded S on the neck, indicating that the Government has sold them as serviceable because it has no further use for them. A splendid opportunity is thus offered for freighters to secure first class horses and mules and we advise them not to lose it. For further information see the advertisement of the Quartermaster.

Grand Social Ball.—A ball will be given at Camp Douglas Hall, Tuesday evening, Feby. 13th, when all who wish can have the pleasure of tripping the "light fantastic toe" to music by Mr. Heidlenger's Quadrille Band. Supper will be served up at the Hall, by Mr. Forscutt, the proprietor of the Union Restaurant, Camp Douglas. The managers state that no pains will be spared to have every thing pleasant and comfortable. The public generally are invited. Tickets including supper, $6, to be had in town or camp. A big delegation doubtless will go up from here, and the regions round about.

San Francisco Items.—On the 24th, a gambler named Samuel Hall was fined $500, and paid it. Adah Isaacs Menken is expected in a few weeks, under engagement to Maguire. Major General Steele arrived in the steamer, to take charge of the Department of Columbia, made vacant by the death of General Wright. The Second United States Cavalry, who fought with Sheridan, accompanied him. Colonel Drum, Assistant Adjutant-General of the Pacific Department, received a dispatch announcing his promotion by brevet to Brigadier-General in the regular army. Miss Emma Shaw, the school mistress who sued Samuel C. Harding for $15,000 for running over her with a buggy, has got a verdict for $850 in greenbacks. He offered her $500 in gold not to bring suit, but she refused.

Forgeries of California Soldier Bounty Certificates.—Extensive forgeries, perpetrated by certain clerks in the Adjutant-General's office of California, have been recently discovered. It appears that these clerks, having access to the copies of Muster-Out Rolls of discharged California soldiers, have been in the habit of making up forged certificates and signing powers of attorney, thus enabling them to draw the bounty due. Fortunately the forgeries were discovered in time to prevent any State warrants being issued. W. L. Ustick, formerly on duty in this District, figures as one of the actors in the swindle. This exposure will have a tendency to further depreciate the value of bounty certificates in the market, for buyers will be very careful in their purchases, when such rascality is detected in the office which audits their claims.

Salt Lake City, U. T.,
February 1st, '66.

J. T. Srick,

Dear Sir:—Hearing of your contemplated visit to the City of Washington, for the purpose of upholding and log-rolling the sacred cause of Polygamy, and to procure the removal from office, by all means, of a certain Federal Officer, whose opposition to the sacred institution is not well relished by the Head Centre of all the Polygamists, we take pleasure in tendering you a complimentary benefit at the treason-mill next door to Potter's Theatre, at any time you may be pleased to name. We regret that your friend, the banker, who has preceded you in your travels, as his merits richly entitle him, be not a participant in the honors of the occasion. Your brothers in the sacred cause of Free-Love,

Many Saints,
And some Sinners.

Gen. Dodge Mustered Out.—We regret to observe that among the list of Major Generals lately mustered out by order of Secretary Stanton, Major Gen. G. M. Dodge, of Iowa, is one. We had thought and hoped that so efficient a General as Gen. Dodge—one so well acquainted with the military interests and necessities of this section, would be re-are to disappoint. Of course Generals in service, but not on duty, would be mustered out. Many valuable officers, no doubt, have suffered, but, so long as the Western country needs the services of [illegible], the regret will be generally shared, that he should not have remained in the service. In civil life, as in the military, we earnestly hope for the General's health and abundant prosperity.—Omaha Republican.

The regret expressed above is shared by all people of this part of General Dodge's late Department. We wish the government could have seen its way clear to have kept such an efficient officer in the service.—Denver Gazette.

That's our sentiment equally.—Telegraph.

From the Plains.—The Fort Kearney, Nebr. Herald of Jan. 16th, furnishes us these items from the Plains:

The reports that the expedition recently sent against the hostile Indian tribes south of the Platte is returning, have no foundation. The gallant Col. Brown of the 12th Mo. Cav., who is leading the party, will force the savages to terms of peace if such a thing is possible.

The team of the western bound coach ran away this morning near Jack Morrow's Ranch, upsetting the coach and breaking the driver's leg.

A few days since, a man went to bed with a bottle of whisky in his wagon near the same place, and next morning it was discovered that the whisky had produced spontaneous combustion, setting fire to the wagon and consuming both wagon and man.

The Season.

A blue sped cloud [illegible] the moon,
Overhung with a [illegible] spraye,
Singing her lyric song, while softly round
Along the grass the disappeared sunshine plays.

To hide her flushing cheek from one who talks.

A happy mother with her fair-faced girls,
With shout, and dance, and laugh, and bound, and song,
Stripping an Autumn orchard's laden trees

An aged woman in a whitey room—
Frost on the pane, without the whirling snow—
Reading old letters of her far-off youth,
Of sorrows past and joys of longago.

CONVERSATION is a very serious matter. There are men with whome an hour's talk would weaken one [illegible]

A man in Fall River recently won a wager of twenty five dollars by eating a nine-pound turkey with all the usual fixings, at a single meal.

Major-General Simon B. Buckner, of Kentucky, is now associate editor of the New Orleans Crescent, and Major-General Frank Gardener, who commanded at Port Hudson, is a local reporter under him.

An effort is making in New Orleans to adopt the California system of buying and selling for gold, though it is doubtful whether the plan could be made to work as completely as in the El Dorado State.
